Reclaiming Mobility: Overcoming Arthritis with AuraWell

Challenge

Jerry, a 72-year-old, initially hesitated to seek treatment for his suspected arthritis in the right knee. Suffering from pain, swelling, and limited mobility, Jerry's reluctance to undergo traditional treatments led him to explore alternative options, including AuraWell PEMF therapy.

Jerry experienced insidious onset knee pain and swelling, which severely affected his daily activities. Seeking relief from pain without resorting to medications or surgery, his goal was to regain pain-free mobility and functionality in his knee.

Solution

AuraWell PEMF therapy was recommended as a non-invasive and drug-free approach to treating Jerry's osteoarthritis. The therapy involved targeted sessions using the AuraWell device and butterfly coil applied directly to the right knee.

Results

- Swift Pain Relief: Within just two sessions, Jerry experienced a significant reduction in pain. The intensity of his pain decreased from 8/10 to 4/10 during activities and eventually vanished completely at rest. AuraWell's targeted therapy directly addressed the inflammation, providing relief and improving Jerry's comfort levels.
- Decrease Swelling: Over the course of four sessions, Jerry observed a 50% decrease in swelling in his right knee. AuraWell's application of neuromagnetic therapy effectively reduced inflammation, allowing Jerry's knee to return to its baseline state.
- Restored Mobility: Jerry regained full range of motion in his knee, achieving 90 degrees of flexion and extension at -9 degrees. This newfound mobility enabled him to perform activities without pain or discomfort, enhancing his overall functional independence.
- Time and Cost Savings: AuraWell's rapid and successful intervention saved Jerry both time and money. Within just one week, he experienced significant improvements, sparing him from prolonged suffering, costly medications, and invasive procedures.
